LAWLESS FLAYED IN FLAG DAY TALK BY VICE PRESIDENT

Speaker Declares American Banner Typifies Liberty Guided by Law.

FLOATS OVER FREEMEN ALWAYS TRIUMPHANT

It Blends Spirits of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln; Is "Stumbling Block to Autocracy."

Vice President Marshall issued a to obey constituted authority" in the course of an address delivered this afternoon at the interdepartmental Flag day exercises, held at the Sylvan Theater, south of the Washington Monument, in the presence of housands of government clerks who had been excused at noon.

Vice President Marshall pictured the faces of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln looking out upon America to-day from the folds of the American flag, and proclaiming the "unconquer-able arm of liberty guided by law."

"An Apostle of the Flag."

"A stumbling block to autocracy," was the way Mr. Marshall characterized the flag, of which he declared himself to be an apostle.

"May one who hopes and believes himself to be an apostle of the American flag declare it to be a stumbling block to autocracy and foolishness to anarchy," the Vice President declared. "Seen aright, it up-trips the whole order of place, preferment and power. It brings the derisive smile to the faces of those who believe that order may be brought out of chaos through mere thought. What is it really, as today it kisses every breeze that blows and scintillates in every sunbeam sent earthward from the aource of light?

"It is not so much how it looks as how it seems to you. Vain were the efforts to band together the varying views of Americans concerning it. Let it suffice for me to describe it as I see it.

"It is not an emblem nor yet an endirected that this plan should be folcoln.

"The brow is calm, serene, unmoved, unruffled, for that the spirit which hides beneath has consciousness of duty done and confidence in God's and man's approval; the eye, piercing and sleepless, for that the soul which looks put of it looks through all salm, all guile and all self-seeking, looks above the dull level of ordinary self-service and preferment, looks up to the mountains of justice.

Gentle Yet Startling Voice.

"And from the mouth there issues forth a voice gentle as a mother's lul-laby, yet startling as Niagara's roar, proclaiming: "I am the emblem of America.

"My might, my power, my hope are all fixed upon the eternal rights of mankind. I brood over the destinies of millions yet unborn. yet, brooding, I am not dis-mayed, for I shall bring to my country's aid in every hour of need the sympathetic soul of democracy, the intellectual aid of fraternity the intellectual aid of fraternity and the unconquerable arm of liberty guided by law.

"I am not a bit of bunting. I live, I breathe and move. All other standards of the world salute me or g odown in the dust of defeat, for it was, it is, it ever will be mine to float above the heads of freemen who dare to die for humankind and who, in the economy of God, whether living or dying all. God, whether living or dying, al-ways are triumphant. I call to the world to behold me and to all the sons of man to follow me.
"But particularly this day I call to the household of faith to take to the household of faith to take from beneath my protecting fold all those who are unwilling to obey constituted authority until by orderly process that authority can be changed.

"By Valley Forge, by Appomattox, by the Argonne and by all the "loved and lost awhile" who there do rest I call upon the American to keep my stars undimmed, my stripes unsullied, my aims untarnished and my glory high exalted. I am the apotheosis of liberty law encrowned. If thou I love no longer thus love me, haul me down and let unhallowed hands bury me in the grave of forgetfulness."

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states, a perfect union, one and inseparable; established for those principles of freedom equality justice and humans. freedom, equality, justice and human ity for which American patriots sac-rificed their lives and fortunes. Attorney Hogan, retained by the association to present to the Commissioners his interpretation of this act, argued before Commissioner Kutz this morning that Congress specifically directs in the law that the bonus shall be added to the present basic rates now paid the per diem forces.

Mr. Hogan maintained that the reference to wage boards considering bonuses when adjusting rates applies to the future, after the bonus shall have been added to the existing rates. He insisted no legal interpretation of the act could sustain the view the the present rates are to be reduced to a point where they will balance the increased compensation to be paid in the form of a bonus. Failing to obtain Col. Kutz's concurrence in his interpretation of the act, Mr. Hogan suggested that the Com-missioners refer the legal questions involved to a committee of three lawyers, one of whom, he proposed, should be the corporation counsel. He said it was not his purpose to ques-tion the policies of the Commission-ers, but that he thought there should be a legal interpretation of the law authorizing the payment of bonuses.

This request was denied. Ask for Voice on Wage Board.

ALLIES HAVE FIXED RUSSIAN POLICIES

Aid for Kolchak First Concrete Step in Fight on Bolsheviki.

BY OLIVER OWEN KUHN. Not at any time since Kerensky was overthrown and the bolshevik era ushered in has there been such optimism as to the reviving of setoptimism as to the reviving of settled order in Russia as at the moment. Everywhere in Washington officialdom there exists a firm belief that the allies' decision to recognize the de facto government of Admiral Kolchak and extend to him material aid in his campaign for the rejuvenation of the nation, definitely sounds the death knell of Lenin and Trotsky and makes certain settled order within Russia in an amazing short period.

Phough the allies in Paris and dipomats of Washington have be much concerned over the develop-ments in Hungary and possible over-throw by the bolsheviki of the preschak regime has increased the feel-ing that, even should the reds in Hungary and Austria seize power and, in turn, extend their influence to Czechoslovakia and Rumania, Kolchak may soon have sufficient power to press in from the east, and at least destroy the fountainheads and direct. ing geniuses of the bolshevist move-

Some of these men have been scattered over southeastattending the convention of the American Federation of Labor. All of these men represent labor organizations throughout the United States.

All local union men will simply go to the east front of the Capitol and take their places in the assemblage, it was directed.

Baltimore will be strongly represented. Fifteen hundred delegates of that Federation of Labor branch are French, British and Italian governments will initiate pretty well estab-lished plans for combating the bol-shevist. Owing to divided interests at the moment it is difficult for European governments to get their ma-chinery in motion against the reds. There are certain social and eco nomic conditions in various countries which forbid any radical policy at the moment, but should some sort of definite order come out of the peace conference there is nothing to prevent the allied governments in Europe from embarking on their well defined plans to stamp out the hot-beds of anarchism and sedition. Consequently the bolshevists of Russia and neighboring countries are work-ing with feverish energy to bolster their strength in every possible direction. Allies to Move Systematically. The recognition of the Kolchak regime as the de facto government of Russia is but one of the allies' plans to proceed systematically to cure the cancerous bolshevik sore on the European body politic. Kolchak already has the backing o the majority of the anti-bolsheville forces of Russia, he has sufficient men, good organization and his prestige is growing by leaps and bounds, according to advices which have reached Washington. The one thing Running close second is the question of finances. With some definite financial policy there must result better economic and social conditions, all of which will tend to enhance the power of the Kolchak regime.

This is the first time that any consistent definite policy in combating the bolshevists of Russia has been adopted by the allies.

No Troops to Be Sent.

Though every assistance will be given to Kolchak and Denikine in their co-ordinated campaign against the bolsheviks, it is made plain that the allies will hardly send their own troops into Russia, leaving Russians themselves to solve their own difficulties. However, it is exceedingly likely that the forces of European powers which are still in Russia will remain there, including the American forces, which have been largely oc-cupied on the Siberian front in guarding supplies and communication lines.
There is every reason to believe that if the Kolchak regime is given financial aid, munitions and economic stores his movement will grow apace More optimistic students of the situa-tion in Washington are inclined to believe that the end of the present Fourteen persons were killed in the year will see Russia reclaimed to law wreck.

The question of whether it can be done without invalidating the treaty is very much on all fours with the oft-quoted case of the lawyer who told his client that he could not be jailed for the offense cited, whereat the latter replied, "But I am in jail."

day and the expiration of the German time limit.

Some modifications were made by the council yesterday in the labor covenant in the peace treaty. The existing labor situation in various countries, coupled with clever German tactics, had resulted in this part of the treaty becoming one of the principal points of attack in the counter proposals. The situation caused a ter proposals. The situation caused a lengthy discussion, which resulted in certain modifications in the conven-
